Head Start Program Again This Summer

The Southwest Arkansas Development Council, Inc. will sponsor the Summer Head Start Program this summer for seven counties. Hempstead County is one of those seven counties and will have the Head Start Program at the Hope, Washington, Saratoga and Bleivins Schools.

Hempstead County will have 213 students for the four schools.

The Head Start Program is for the economically disadvantaged child. This program is based on the philosophy that (1) a child can benefit most from a comprehensive interdisciplinary attack on his problems at a local level, (2) and the child's entire family, as well as the community must be involved in solving his problems.

Summer Head Start programs operate during school vacation for children who will be attending kindergarten or elementary school for the first time in the fall. On a second priority basis only, exceptions may be made to this rule for those children who have been specifically designated by their teachers in kindergarten or first grade as needing additional help from Head Start in order to be able to progress in school.

The Head Start Program will start on June 8, 1970, and continue thru August 1, 1970. Applications for Head Start students are now available at the Hope, Washington, Saratoga and Bleivins schools, these applications should be completed and mailed back to their perspective school or to the Hempstead County O.E. O. Office on South Laurel Street in Hope.

Deadline for filing Personnel applications will be April 24, 1970.

A Policy Advisory Committee will be set up for the Head Start Program. At least a half of the membership of this committee will be parents of Head Start students this summer. This Committee has a voice in establishing criteria for the selection of staff personnel, making suggestions for the program improvement, and serves as a channel for hearing complaints on the program.

There will be a meeting for parents of Head Start students and any other persons in the county who are interested in the program to organize the Policy Advisory Committee for this summer. A date will be set later for each school Policy Advisory Committee.

Families of Astronauts Ready Early

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The champagne was chilled, the television sets ready. Guests were expected. The children were home. All was in readiness.

For today, three tired, cold American astronauts were flashing back to earth, their spaceships crippled but crew and ground controllers confident.

This space community, as nowhere else in the world, waited anxiously for James A. Lovell Jr., Fred W. Haise Jr., and John L. Swigert Jr., to end their abbreviated and aborted moon landing mission.

Marilyn Lovell and Mary Haise, two proud Apollo wives, were secluded in their homes here. In Denver, Colo., the parents of bachelor spaceman Swigert waited.

Friends carted in the traditional splashdown beverage on the eve of re-entry. Marilyn visited a beauty shop. She also chatted with NASA administrator Thomas O. Paine.

Jeffrey, 4, youngest of the four Lovell children, was given a turtle. He promptly named it

"game plan" laid down by the council two months ago: It will be slow until summer, when it will begin picking up but not fast enough to set off a new round of inflation.

What this means in terms of the price of eggs and beef isn't yet clear, but the spiraling increases of wholesale prices seem to be slackening, which may be turned into less exuberant increases in consumer prices.

Aquarius and announced, "He is my friend."

Jeffrey and his two sisters, Barbara, 16, and Susan, 11, were home from school. Lovell's oldest son, James, 15, was the only absentee. He attends a military school in Wisconsin.

Mary Haise kept her three children home from school all week, and today was no exception. This was her husband's first space flight.

In Denver, the Swigerts, whose son was a late replacement on the flight, invited in friends and relatives for conclusion of the space drama.

2,000 south Vietnamese troops plus hundreds of tanks and armored personnel carriers have been operating inside Cambodia in recent days. South Vietnamese jets and prop planes have been bombing North Vietnamese positions inside Cambodia in support of the task force.

Route One, the highway between Saigon and Phnom Penh, crosses the border 42 miles northwest of Saigon into an area of Cambodia called the Parrot's Beak on military maps. The military estimates more than 10,000 North Vietnamese and CI Cong troops are in this region. Early this week they pushed to the outskirts of Svay Rieng, the Cambodian provincial capital about 30 miles west of Route One Crossing, but no attempt to take the town has been reported.

The situation is considered so politically explosive that American military police from the 25th Division have been stationed at the border to keep civilians and American military personnel from crossing into Cambodia.

The U. S. Command in Saigon has sent a message to all subordinate commands and province and district advisers ordering them to make no comments on the Cambodian situation.

The Cambodian leaders who deposed Prince Norodom Sihanouk last month officially asked the United States this week for arms. The State Department said Thursday the request is "being examined." Officials in Washington said no U.S. combat forces were asked for.

The Nixon administration was reported in a dilemma, caught between powerful congressional critics demanding that the U.S. withdrawal from Southeast Asia continue and advisers contending that the Communists will take over Cambodia unless the new regime headed by Premier Lon Nol gets outside aid.

Meanwhile, the Cambodian government has launched a campaign against the 600,000 Vietnamese living in Cambodia, thousands have been rounded up for security checks, and hundreds have been reported slaughtered, either by troops and police or aroused Cambodian peasants.

South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam announced that the Saigon government has offered to repatriate all Vietnamese nationals living in Cambodia. He said 1,467 already have crossed the border, and as many as 50,000 may come over.

York, a leading Soviet official for the first time came out in favor of reviving the Geneva conference in the Indo-China states to seek peace in Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

In answer to a question at a news conference, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob A. Malik said: "Only a new Geneva conference could bring about a correct solution and a relaxation of tension in the Indochina peninsula."

Only light and scattered action was reported from the battlefields in South Vietnam.

The U. S. Command said there were 22 enemy rocket and mortar attacks during the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today, but only seven caused casualties or damage. Six Americans were reported wounded.

fied. How was he supposed to know what his wife wanted to go to a movie, no matter whether it was snowing snowballs outside or raining alley cats and pure-bred dogs.

Aside from woman's tendency to use irony and sarcasm and to make statements as difficult to interpret correctly as those of the Delphic oracle, the trait that irritates men most is her exaggerated use of two words—never and always.

If he is unimpressed by a new dress she asks his opinion about, ever afterward she says, "What's the point in asking you? You NEVER like a thing I wear anyway."

If once in his lifetime, he keeps her waiting five minutes at a street corner, ever afterwards shebraids him, "Why do you ALWAYS have to embarrass me by being late?"

As they grow older, you will notice that most married couples speak less to each other and communicate more and more in a mutual language of their own they have developed together—sign language.

This the husband understands, because when a woman makes signs even she has to mean what she says. It is only when she uses words that her every sentence is a mystery.

MILITANT WIVES WOULDN'T WIN BACK HUSBANDS

Dear Helen: "Disgusted wife's" idea of a national "march" to bring husbands back into a line is much too impersonal. If a "wronged wife" wants to picket the house of her husband's girl friend with a sign "This woman is breaking up a marriage" okay, but this too only "gets even." It doesn't get back the man.

Love between a man and a woman is a personal thing. You don't demand it. You don't say, "You owe me your loyalty." You win it and keep it by, first, choosing the right mate and, second, showing him you KNOW he's right.

I goofed up on the second several years ago. I became a housewife and mother first, a wife only when I had the time, and a real woman almost never. So my husband strayed, helped along by a sweet young thing who turned his head.

I didn't picket or march, I took stock, I faced myself squarely and saw that, had I been in his shoes, I might have looked elsewhere for companionship.

We talked it out. It isn't easy, putting aside the hurt, but when you know that your man is basically good, just human, you can.

Now our marriage is stronger than ever. Unlike the woman who described her fears and miseries every time the door bell rings or the mail comes (thinking it will be news of anew infidelity), I'm now secure in my love and—SURE OF MY MAN

Dear Helen: I am 43, my husband is 46. Lately I've noticed a lady, who is married and has teen-aged children, passing by our house in her car, and looking at the window. My husband has taken to standing by this window. I get a strange feeling that there is something between these two.

He takes me out and treats me well, but I have this trouble with being jealous. I get vibrations that they are having an affair. Does this sound dumb?—R.C.

Dear R: Yes! Check those vibrations down to an over-active imagination and try a little trust. Also some let this cup pass from me" (St. Matthew 26:39).

If it be Possible

Even the Son of God could not always have His way. The bitter cup did not pass. Even though Jesus prayed three times for the cup to go away, He always concluded with, "not as I will, but as thou wilt".
He drank it deliberately in a calm majestic mood, while God stood by in loving sympathy.
By drinking that most bitter cup, Jesus became the Saviour of the world. God gave Him strength for the suffering and through this heroic deed, Jesus became perfect.
People, all about us, every day, cry the same prayer, "let this cup pass from me". We tremble at the ordeal ahead. Our faith shrinks to know we must suffer such fate as St. Matthew spoke of. But suffering seasons us. It links us to God, for high adventure and noble service through His church.

You in The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

If your church is to be a going concern, it must have church-going members. Sponsors listed below urge you to attend services this week.

The Dallas Aces, composed of James Jacoby, Bobby Wolff, Bobby Goldman, Billy Eisenberg, Mike Lawrence and Bob Hamman are also the 1970 American International team. They will leave for Stockholm on June 11 to compete in the World's Championship and Oswald Jacoby will be along as nonplaying captain.

In their capacity as the Dallas Aces they played a seven-week match against the Omar Sharif Bridge Circus and won by 101 IMPs after 840 hands. A small margin but a very satisfactory one when it is considered that the Circus included the three best players of the World's Champion Italian
Blue team.

The American victory was due in large measure to the strenuous training program that changed this group of six very good players into three outstanding partners.

Slam bidding is most important in world level competition and the Aces use very sophisticated slam methods.

Today's bidding by Hamman and Lawrence shows two of these bids. The heart opening and two diamonds response are normal. Ham-man's jump to four clubs is a fragment bid. It is a strong diamonds raise and guarantees a singleton or void in spades. This is normal enough in expert circles today but Lawrence's jump to five hearts is their own. It conveys the message that he holds good diamonds, a high honor in hearts and nothing else of slam value.

After that five-heart bid, Hamman had no reason to show that he was actually void of spades and settled for the small slam. You should never bid a grand slam that depends on a finesse although there is no harm taking that sort of gamble with small slams.
Of course, the club finesse was right so seven was made but even the best player in the world can't see through the backs of cards.

All Aboard for Kentucky Is Sounded

By BOB COOPER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The "all aboard for Kentucky" call will be sounded on both coasts Saturday with the last two major preps outside the Bluegrass State for the biggest show in horse racing, the Kentucky Derby.

After the Wood Memorial at Aqueduct in New York and the California Derby at San Francisco's Golden Gate Fields, only three big preps remain before the May 2 Derby. All are in Kentucky.

A field of a dozen or more is expected for the Wood, with last year's juvenile champion, Silent Screen, and Gotham winner Native Royalty included.

Seven or eight, including George Lewis and Top the Market, are probabilities for the California Derby.

Both tests carry $100,000-added purses and both are at 1 1/2 miles, a furlong shorter than the Derby at Churchill Downs in Louisville.

With these races over, only the 1 1/8-mile Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland and the seven-furlong Stepping Stone Purse and the one-mile Derby Trial at Churchill Downs remain of the traditional preps before America's premier horse race.

If the full expected field goes in the Wood, the pot will be worth $116,800, with one non-Derby horse, Calumet Farm's stakes spoiler Sunny Tim, out to cop the major share.

Ethel Jacobs is expected to send her duo of Personality and High Echelon against such other starters as Briardale Farm's Stop Time, Mike Ford's Parasol Pete, John Marsh's Clove Hitch, Allan Rosoff's Estimator Dave and C. V. Whitney's Prize Silver.

Kentucky Derby nominees set to go with George Lewis and Top the Market on the West Coast include Hanalei Bay, Cool Hand and Faithful Leader, along with Royal Talent and Sir Wiggle.

Each race is expected to erase Kentucky plans for four or five minds—paring a cumbersome field. Just two weeks left before the derby, 30 horses—more than will fit across the Churchill Downs track—still are considered as possible starters.

While the 3-year-old Derby threats hold the racing spotlight this weekend, older horses vie in other rich races, three of them on the turf.

About a dozen are expected for the $40,000-added Long Beach

Young Hurler Aids in Win by Redlegs

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don Gullett was drafted last June but his pitching has just been classified 1-A.

That's because the 19-year-old left-hander was drafted by a baseball team—the Cincinnati Reds—and the rest of the National League is on the receiving end of his meteoric rise to stardom.

"In time, he'll be nothing but a star. We're seeing a star being born right before our eyes," said manager Sparky Anderson after Gullett picked up his first major league victory with five scoreless innings of three-hit relief and got the win in Cincinnati's 12-2 romp over Los Angeles Thursday night.

"He'll have his bad outings in the future, sure, but he can't miss being a great one."

Those are strong words of praise for a rookie less than a year out of McKell High School in Lynn, Ky., who made only 11 appearances in the low minors before he was added to the Reds' roster just before opening day.

But the figures back him up. Gullett has pitched 6 1-3 innings in three big league games, allowing four hits, no runs, four walks and four strikeouts.

Elsewhere in the NL, San Francisco outslugged Houston 11-9 in 10 innings, San Diego topped Atlanta 5-4 in 10, Pittsburgh beat the New York Mets 7-4 and the Chicago Cubs nipped Philadelphia 6-5, also in 10 innings. St. Louis and Montreal were idle.

In the American League, it was Washington 4, Baltimore 2; Boston 8, New York Yankees 5; Detroit 4, Cleveland 2; Kansas City 8, Milwaukee 6; Oakland 3, Chicago White Sox 1 and California 3, Minnesota 2.

Gullett, who has been likened to Sandy Koufax at a comparable age by Cincinnati's scouting supervisor Cliff Alexander, was an all-round athlete in high school. In his senior year he was 9-2 with 120 strikeouts in 52 innings and hurled a perfect game, fanning 20 of the 21 batters.

Gullett was an all-round athlete Thursday night, too. He walked and stole a base to ignore a five-run uprising in the fifth inning and touched off a three-run rally in the sixth with a triple. Lee May capped the five-run inning with a grand slam and Tony Perez hit a two-run homer in the eighth.

Gullett's performance was especially welcome because the Reds lost right-hander Jim Malone, who ruptured the Achilles tendon in his left leg in the third inning and was placed on the 60-day disabled list.

San Francisco's M Squad powered the Giants past Houston. Willie Mays tied the game with a two-run homer in the eighth inning—his first of the season and 601st of his career—and Willie McCovey won it with a two-run shot in the 10th. Tito Fuentes also connected for the Giants while Denis Menke and Jim Wynn homered for the Astros.

Atlanta's Phil Niekro, knocking his way toward his first win for seven innings, wound up instead with his third loss. Nate Colbert wiped out a 4-1 Brave lead with a three-run homer in the eighth following two-out singles by Van Kelly and Clarence Gaston and pinch hitter Ivan Murrell homered in the 10th to win it.

Pittsburgh saw the Mets score four times in the sixth inning to tie the score—Cleon Jones' bases-loaded triple was the key blow—but the Pirates moved right back in front in the seventh on RBI singles by Jose Pagan and Roberto Clemente. Al Oliver homered in the eighth to close out the scoring.

Randy Hundley's 10th-inning single with bases loaded snapped a 5-5 tie—the Phillies scored a run in the ninth to tie it—and gave the Cubs their third straight triumph. Billy Williams homered for the Cubs and Deron Johnson for the Phillies, who have lost five in a row after a promising start.

McGuire fourth. Barbara Lawson of Colorado repeated as women's 880 champion, breaking her own record with a 2:12.1 clocking.

Handicap at 1 1-16 miles at Hollywood Park, where Hat Ranch's Commissary and Barbara Hunter's Pattee Canyon are the likely favorites.

"I could have run it faster," he said of his time, 29:45.4. "But I wanted to save some for the steeplechase and the distance medley relay."

Oukada beat Moore by about 40 yards. Craig Runyan of Colorado, who set the record here last year at 29:44.3, was third.

Each race is expected to erase Kentucky plans for four or five minds—paring a cumbersome field. Just two weeks left before the derby, 30 horses—more than will fit across the Churchill Downs track—still are considered as possible starters.

While the 3-year-old Derby threats hold the racing spotlight this weekend, older horses vie in other rich races, three of them on the turf.

Kansas State to Meet Kentucky

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kansas State will play in the University of Kentucky Invitational Christmas Basketball Tourney Dec. 18-19, it was announced Thursday. DePaul, Purdue and Kentucky also will compete.

Senators Belt the Orioles

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver had minor surgery performed earlier in the day and then the Washington Senators ruined his night as massive Frank Howard and stylish Joe Coleman Jr. successfully operated on his Orioles.

With Howard polling his second homer of the year and Coleman adding a key double, in addition to twirling a neat seven-hitter, the Senators swept to a 4-2 victory over the Orioles Thursday night.

In other American League contests, California ended Minnesota's unbeaten streak at five, whipping the Twins 3-2, Oakland stopped Chicago 3-1, Kansas City belted Milwaukee 8-6, Detroit edged Cleveland 4-2 and Boston stopped New York 8-5.

In the National League, Pittsburgh defeated New York 7-4, Cincinnati bombed Los Angeles 1-2, Chicago nipped Philadelphia 6-5, San Diego tripped Atlanta 5-4 and San Francisco dropped Houston 11-9, the latter three games in 10 innings.

Weaver, bothered by a sore throat in the spring, had a cyst removed from his vocal cords Thursday. Although his voice was weaker, it didn't stop the peppery pilot from whispering a complaint.

Weaver put his limited vocal powers to use in the third inning and got an out call on the Orioles' Don Buford reversed when the umpire apparently was obscured on a bobble by Senators' first baseman Mike Epstein. Weaver protested to another arbiter, who had a clear view of the play, and he changed the decision.

However, it was in vain as Howard clinched the Senators' third straight triumph with his two-run blast in the third inning after Coleman had driven in the Senators' first two runs with a bloop double to right field.

Coleman, a 23-year-old right-hander, evened his record at 1-1, and sent the Orioles to their second straight loss after five victories. Coleman, 1-6 lifetime against Baltimore prior to Thursday, struck out two and walked four.

Ken Tatum's clutch relief pitching and a three-run fourth inning enabled the Angels to end Minnesota's streak. Tatum stopped Twins' eighth-inning uprising after Harmon Killebrew had opened with a single and was tripped home by Tony Oliva.

After another walk by starter and winner Rudy May, Tatum came on and got Leo Cardenas to hit into a double play and struck out George Mitterwald.

Sandy Alomar's perfect squeeze bunt capped the three-run Angel spurt.

John "Blue Moon" Odom scattered six hits and was backed by Oakland's 10-hit attack in the A's victory. Odom, 2-1, struck out eight and walked two, Chicago's lone run came on a 450-foot homer by Buddy Bradford.

The A's got single runs in the third, fifth and sixth innings, with Felipe Alou and Rick Monday keying the attack with three hits apiece. Monday scored one run and knocked in another with Dick Green also driving in a tally.

Lou Piniella's three-run homer and Moe Drabowsky's strong relief pitching enabled the Royals to hold off Milwaukee. Piniella's third-inning homer gave Kansas City a 6-2 edge and Amos Otis knocked in the decisive two runs an inning later.

The Brewers got to within 8-6 when Drabowsky came on to get the last seven outs and preserve the victory for Bill Butler.

Dick McAuliffe's solo homer and a run-scoring single provided the difference in the Tigers' victory and Earl Wilson survived a shaky start to gain his first triumph of the year.

The Red Sox swept their three-game series with the Yankees, capped by Mike Andrews' pop fly single in the eighth inning, sparking a four-run rally.

Rico Petrocelli drove in four runs with a homer and sacrifice fly. Andrews also clipped in with a homer. Bobby Murcer had two RBIs for New York.

HAPPY ENDING to a frustrating moment for pro golfer Lee Trevino. This photo sequence made in Miami, Fla., shows Trevino's reaction when an eight-foot putt seemingly missed by hanging on the cup's rim. From the left, Trevino appears to collapse in disbelief that he didn't make it. Then, as the ball dropped, so did Lee, coming up at the end a happy Texan.

Cambodian Request for Aid Studied

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is reportedly studying Cambodia's request for military assistance with extreme caution.

There seems to be little doubt here that the Cambodian army needs or will soon need arms. But some officials say an international arrangement to furnish aid, pegged to the purpose of supporting Cambodian neutrality, might afford the best solution to the problem.

The State Department announced Thursday a request for military assistance—meaning arms and other materiel—had been received from the new Cambodian government of Premier Lon Nol, who overthrew former chief of state Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

A spokesman said the request was being "examined," a word chosen to avoid saying that it was already being considered.

About the same time Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he was opposed to granting U.S. arms aid to Cambodia.

Administration leaders expect any decision to meet the Cambodian request directly will draw new fire from critics in Congress.

On the other hand they fear without some assistance Cambodia may not survive as a neutral country.

The Cambodian request for aid has been addressed not only to the United States but to many other countries.

This broad appeal opened up the possibility the United States would consult with other friendly governments about a possible international arrangement for aid.

The new regime has been involved in some fighting with North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces using Cambodian border territory as sanctuary in the Vietnam war.

On the diplomatic-propaganda side of the problem facing the Nixon administration, mainland China and North Vietnam already have accused the United States and South Vietnam of conspiring with Cambodia to broaden the war in Indo-China.

U.S. officials reject this charge completely and say President Nixon's program of troop withdrawal from South Vietnam means the United States wants to reduce the war as rapidly as enemy behavior will permit, not broaden the fighting.

On the 1957 petition asking for a popular vote on the sales tax law increasing the rate from 2 to 3 per cent the supreme court unofficially warned petition challengers not to bring this "stinker" back into court on a technicality—whereupon Faubus marshaled the full strength of his machine and upheld the sales tax hike in the 1958 general election.

On the 1955 and 1957 petition campaigns and their subsequent litigation I personally spent $18,000—but the Faubus machine beat me hands down. But this is one rebel who is still getting plenty of mileage out of what at the time appeared to be a disaster. I lost a skirmish but won the war.

If I might summarize the political situation in Arkansas in recent years it would read like this:

The people of Arkansas have at long last developed their own system to beat the machine. Observing that under a Democratic governor and a Democratic legislature they invariably got dictatorship and higher taxes they invoked the same principle beloved of politicians—divide and rule.

Now we have a Republican governor and a Democratic legislature—the machine has gone to pot, and higher taxes are lost in the light.

I for one say Amen.

A Report Contradicts Contention That U.S. Economy Is Better

By JOHN M. PEARCE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's repeated contention that inflation is nearly over has been given new support by seemingly contradictory figures in the most recent Gross National Product report.

Prices continued their four year climb during January, February and March with an annual rate increase of 5 per cent the Commerce Department reported Thursday. But at the same time, actual output of goods and services dropped a dramatic 1 1/2 per cent, the steepest decline since the recession of almost a decade ago.

The Federal Reserve Board also reported industrial production climbed slightly in March after seven consecutive months of decline, giving some hope the economy is picking up again after the government-induced slowdown.

"The figures suggest to me that the economy is bottoming or maybe has bottomed," the Commerce Department's chief economist, Asst. Secretary Harold C. Passer, said.

"The worst is behind us," Asst. Budget Bureau Director Maurice Mann said, although he cautioned "We may still get some bad numbers—we may still see some higher unemployment," he said.

But Mann, Passer and Sidney Jones, an economist for the President's Council of Economic Advisers, remained convinced the economy would follow the

Welfare Bill Is Handed to Nixon

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has handed President Nixon a major victory by passing his far-reaching welfare reform package, but the administration faces a strong effort in the Senate to raise the assured family income over $1,600.

Several senators already have served notice they will try to hike the benefits despite the cost. The final floor showdown may come in June.

By a 243-155 vote that crisscrossed party lines, the House Thursday sent the measure to the Senate. Both Republican and Democratic leaders supported it, but conservatives in both parties—and a few liberals who wanted more generous provisions—were lined up in opposition.

The measure provides a $1,600 federally assured income for a family of four and increases the roll of eligible persons by an estimated 13 million, mostly the working poor and their families. It requires adult beneficiaries to register for job training and assignment. The federal government would assume a greater share of the cost and administration.

The aged, blind and disabled would be assured $110 a month. By official estimates, the bill would cost $4.4 billion—but opponents said the cost will turn out as much as three times that figure.

In the Senate, several members have tipped their hand on proposed amendments changing the benefits.

Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okl., has proposed an initial family floor of $2,520, rising by stages to $3,600.

Sen. Charles L. Goodell, R-N.Y., advocates a $3,800 floor. Others, however, may attempt to trim the bill. Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., has termed the cost estimate hopelessly inadequate and said the work incentive provisions are no improvement over present law.

The Senate Finance Committee plans a preliminary briefing on the complicated measure next week, with hearings to follow, aimed at a Senate vote in June.

Astronauts Ride Badly Crippled Craft to Safe Landing, World Relieved

Entire Side of Module Was Missing

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 13's astronauts streaking for the safety of their home planet, kicked loose their ailing spaceship's service module today and reported "there's one whole side of that spacecraft missing... it's a mess."

The damage was the result of the oxygen tank rupture that aborted the moon-landing mission Monday night and forced the astronauts to fight for survival with the resources of their lunar lander.

The separation of the service module came at the end of an hour of furious activity in which James A. Lovell Jr., Fred W. Haise Jr. and John L. Swigert Jr. turned on the electrical power in the command ship and fired a control jet to aim for an afternoon landing in the Pacific Ocean.

The service module damage would present no problem to the astronauts' return to earth.

Following the separation, Lovell said one whole panel, 22 feet long, and part of the engine bell were missing.

"Looks like a lot of debris is just hanging off the side," Lovell said. "It's near the S-Band antenna."

The service module contained most of the long-life oxygen and electrical power for the Apollo 13 command ship.

The explosion Monday night rendered the command vehicle useless until today when power was restored with batteries.

The astronauts discarded the service module to expose the command ship heat shield which was to protect them during the blazing re-entry through the atmosphere.

The spacemen used a tricky "push-pull" technique to separate the service module. Lovell fired the lunar module jets to push the service section forward. Simultaneously, Swigert, in the command ship, fired explosive devices to effect separation. Lovell quickly reversed the lunar craft to back away so there would be no collision during re-entry later in the day.

The astronauts photographed the damage. The pictures could provide possible clues to the cause of the rupture.

Earlier, Swigert slipped into the command ship cabin to start the batteries and oxygen system. These operate from a separate system and are designed for use during re-entry.

Lovell and Haise fired the lunar craft's small jets for 23 seconds to zero in on the landing site 610 miles southeast of Samoa in the Pacific.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Three tied Apollo 13 astronauts were on target early today as they headed for splashdown in the South Pacific and the end of their ill-fated attempt to make man's third lunar landing. No weather problems were expected in the recovery area where two American ships and assorted aircraft waited, backed up by offers of help from nearby ships of the Soviet Union, Britain, France, Japan, Brazil and other nations.

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The Jordanian government has reportedly asked the United States to remove its ambassador from Amman, apparently because he advised U.S. Asst. Secretary of State Joseph Sisco to cancel a visit to Jordan. The advice came after two days of violent, guerrilla-led demonstrations against the U.S. and Sisco's visit.

ROUTE ONE BORDER CROSSING, Vietnam (AP) — A massive South Vietnamese and American buildup is taking place along the Cambodian border north and south of this key crossing point. There is no evidence of American forays across the frontier, but an American battalion has moved to the area to relieve South Vietnamese troops operating up to 10 miles inside Cambodia.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has handed President Nixon a major victory by passing his welfare reform package, which provides a family of four with an assured income of $1,600. The bill faces strong efforts in the Senate to alter the family income level.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Figures in the most recent Gross National Product report support the Nixon administration's contention that inflation is nearly over. Among other things, the report shows the steepest drop in actual output since the recession of the early '60s.

Three Persons Drowned at Crossett

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP) — Three persons drowned Thursday night in a bar pit near the Ouachita River 30 miles east of here.

Police identified the victims as Albert Edward, 45, Mrs. Lottie Haynes, 47, and her 22-month-old grandson, Jessie James Bealin, all of Crossett. Authorities said the accident occurred when the boat in which they were riding sank. The bodies were recovered two hours later by the Crossett Fire Department.

Radioactive Cast to Bury Self at Sea

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A cask of radioactive plutonium 238 from the Apollo 13 lunar lander is expected to plummet undamaged through the earth's atmosphere today and bury itself in the Pacific Ocean.

The fragile lander Aquarius itself will burn up on re-entry into the atmosphere. But the plutonium, attached to the outside of the lander, has a heat-resistant graphite-beryllium casing and is expected to plunge intact into the sea.

It is expected to hit the water and sink to the bottom about 600 miles east of the Apollo 13 splashdown point.

The plutonium was to have been used as a source of power for scientific equipment the Apollo 13 astronauts planned to leave on the moon.

When they packed away from the service module, they discovered it was severely damaged, with one whole side ripped away.

The view was frightening. The damage was severe.

"There's one whole side of that spacecraft missing. . . It's really a mess," Lovell exclaimed.

An hour before, Odyssey hit the atmosphere, the astronauts jettisoned their faithful lunar module.

"Farewell, Aquarius, and we thank you," Mission Control paid tribute to the sturdy lunar vehicle.

"She was a good ship," said Lovell.

The successful landing climaxed a flurry of activity in the final hours of the abortive mission.

In a one-hour period, starting about six hours before touchdown, the astronauts activated electrical power on the command ship, fired control jets on the lunar module to take aim at the Pacific and separated their service module.

The condition of the service module, where the Monday rupture occurred, provided a big surprise.

"There is one whole side of that spacecraft missing. . . almost from the base to the engine," Lovell reported excitedly.

"There's a dark brown streak down the side. It's really a mess."
